

IAMCP Louisiana chapter launched August 18, 2005

The official launch of the Louisiana chapter of the International Association of Microsoft Certified Partners (IAMCP) kicked off at an August 18, 2005 meeting in the Pan American Conference Center to elect local officers.

The newly elected officers are:

President - Jamie Armanini of Momentum

Vice President - Matt Hunt of Roux Business Systems

Secretary - Ivan MacDonald of Camsoft Data Systems

Treasurer - Charlie LeMaire of AIM Technologies

Members at large - Thomas Daniel of Software Spectrum and Haggai Davis of LANtec.

The organization is open to all Microsoft partners throughout the state.

The goal of the IAMCP is to aid members in developing business and profit growth. Member companies are also assisted with marketing initiatives, provided a direct link to key Microsoft contacts and offered a forum to discuss Microsoft technologies.

According to Armanini, the organization is, "seeking member companies who understand that IAMCP, and is designed to help them grow, provide global solutions and partner with other tech companies offering complementary IT solutions."

The newly formed IAMCP Louisiana chapter has 19 member companies thus far. The group is hosting a golf tournament at the University Club in Baton Rouge on Thursday, October 20, 2005. Microsoft is a key sponsor for the tournament; the group is seeking additional sponsors for the event.
